

The Oxford Group

By R. E. KNOWLES

So many scores have asked me—why, I scarce know—questions as to the sea-worthiness of the Oxford Group, and as to the number and nature of those who either belong to it or support it, or both, that I cannot forbear, just as a sample of the type of men who pin their faith to the Movement, and of the fashion in which they voice that faith, to submit to The Star's hundreds of thousands of readers one letter—from the distinguished and saintly Bishop of Liverpool. His note to

Prof. Grensted, of Oxford University, is herewith appended:

"My dear Grensted, I am delighted to hear that you are going to Canada. I have been reading various accounts of the proceedings of the team there, which fill me with thankfulness and joy. In that spirit do give them a greeting from myself—through them has come the greatest encouragement of this winter so far. Thank God for it!
