

1954

Mr Desai, leader of the Indian Community, Bulawayo.

On behalf of the Indian public of Bulawayo I have great pleasure in welcoming the members of Moral Re-Armament. Their artists are going to present to you this evening their play "The Real News" by Peter Howard. I am sure you are all going to enjoy the play. I may say a few words about the principles of Moral Re-Armament which these friends of ours have been taking throughout the world.

We all know the world is passing through a very difficult time everybody does not feel secure even if they are a big country like the U.S.A. or the U.S.S.R. Everybody is trying to arm themselves with violent arms while these friends are preaching quite a different thing trying to create a sound world based on morality. We in India know these principles very well because our great leader Gandhi not only knew these principles but fought the battle of independence ~~against~~ ^{with} one of the mightiest empires in the world on the same basis. We know India became independent, but India and England are the best friends during the last 200 years. These are the principles of Moral Re-Armament, and these are the principles our great leader taught us, and especially here in Central Africa we must go on this basis, we must go on these principles. And if we want to build a country of peace, happiness and prosperity we will have to go by these ideas.

I hope this stay of the Moral Re-Armament friends in Bulawayo will be a very pleasant one.

■ If you want to build a sound society you will have to go after the sound the standards of this great movement.