

Sing out Rhodesia

SING OUT Rhodesia is a Musical Explosion with a cast of 60 young Rhodesians and they will hold a concert in the Estcourt Town Hall on Monday August 26, at 8 pm. The concert is more than a swinging musical show it is the expression of the spirit of a new dynamic young South Africa out to set the pace in fresh enterprise and initiative. It is an expression of patriotism and faith in God. The cast consists of students from university and high school students who give their time and talent without salary.

The aims of this Springbok Stampede are to give youth a purpose and to create sound leadership. To create sound family life and to establish co-operation between South Africa and the rest of the continent.

To advance South Africa's active participation in the spiritual and material development of the culture and identity of each national group and to strive that God be restored to leadership as the directing force in the lives of men and nations.
