PRETORIA—Commenting on the forthcoming visit of the Moral Re-armament leader, Dr. F. Buchman, Die Transvaler, the Nationalist mouthpiece in the Transvaal, said in an editorial that, according to the Liberal press, the movement acknowledges no colour line and believe in equal opportunity for everyone.

"We only hope this is not true. If it is true, ambassadors of the movement cannot possibly expect a hearty welcome from those who believe in apartheid.

"The movement has been active for some time in South Africa and its workers here must be acquainted with local conditions.

"If they have been unable to bring about any change of heart over a number of years it is unlikely that persons from overseas with the defective knowledge and lack of insight into our problems will be able to work miracles".
